STATE OF FLORIDA
MILITARY DEPARTMENT
OFFICE OF THE ADJUTANT GENERAL
ST. AUGUSTINE

December 31, 1940.

His Excellency, The Governor of Florida and Commander-in-Chief, Florida National Guard and Florida Naval Militia, Tallahassee, Florida.

SIR:

Herewith is submitted the biennial report of the Adjutant General of Florida, pertaining to the administration of the Division of Military and Naval Affairs of the Executive Department for the calendar years 1939 and 1940 pursuant to the provisions of Chapter 2024 Compiled General Laws of Florida, 1927.

Administration:

A considerable increase in the administrative duties of organization commanders and of this office has developed within the past biennium, due to the necessity of meeting higher standards of efficiency, and to the large turnover of personnel. During the past year 2,830 soldiers passed through and out of National Guard service while 1,950 new recruits were accepted, a turnover of 60%.

Elsewhere in this report is listed major items of property under the jurisdiction of this office totalling $5,136,051.13, which represents an increase of approximately 20% during the biennium. More than four thousand different items of equipment ranging from shoelaces to 155 millimeter guns are carried on the accounts of the property officer.

General. Due to world-wide conditions, the past year has been a most active one for our State military forces. There has not been a time since the conclusion of the World War that more effort has been demanded of the Florida National Guard, but the promptitude and precision with which our organizations have met the additional requirements, most of them on very short notice, and the character of performance in all of its activities, substantiates my conclusion that the general condition of our forces is most satisfactory. This conclusion, based on extensive personal observation of our troops in the field and in their armories, is well borne out by the reports of the Regular Army inspectors on the annual armory and field training activities, as also the reports of regular and special inspections made by staff officers at this headquarters. Steady and definite progress has been made, and I am convinced that the year 1940 closes with the Guard at its highest state of efficiency and readiness for active service at any time since its reorganization in 1920. True it is that there are deficiencies, but save for the lack of sufficient modern equipment, these short-comings are all of a minor nature, which are bound to exist with the large annual turnover in enlisted personnel.

HOME DEFENSE

The maintenance of Armed forces by the several States, other than the federally recognized National Guard, being prohibited by federal law, and anticipating the early induction of the National Guard into active military service, the Congress, on October 21, 1940, amended the National Defense Act of 1916, withdrawing this prohibition, and authorizing the organization of State Defense Forces to replace the National Guard during the period of its absence from State Control.

While this proposed force will have no federal status, and must function purely as a State institution, the amendment further authorized the Secretary of War to issue to the States certain arms and equipment as might be spared by the War Department.

Because of the National emergency, this office has been advised that the initial issue of War Department equipment will be restricted to 1,539 Enfield Rifles, so that in determining the strength of the proposed State Defense Force, consideration must be given to the cost of uniforming and equipping its personnel.

INDUCTION INTO FEDERAL SERVICE

Under the authority contained in Public Resolution No. 96, 76th Congress, approved August 27, 1940, The President of the United States, by Executive Order No. 8594, ordered all federally recognized elements of the 31st Division inducted into active military service of the United States for a period of twelve consecutive months, effective November 25, 1940. Pursuant to the above executive order, the following organizations of the Florida National Guard, reported to their respective armories and were inducted into active service:

PERSONNEL PROCUREMENT FOR EMERGENCIES

During the period covered by this report, considerable progress has been made in the study and development of plans for procuring voluntary recruits during the early days of a mobilization, and for the operation of a selective service law should an emergency demand. One officer of the State Staff has been detailed to attend annual War Department conferences, and all State Staff officers are pursuing a correspondence course, prepared by a joint Army and Navy committee on these important subjects.

With the aid of established governmental agencies, and of patriotic civilian organizations, it is believed that the activation of prescribed inactive units and the procurement of personnel for war expansion of existing regiments, as contemplated by these plans, can be accomplished in an expeditious and orderly manner.

TRAINING

Taking cognizance of the obsolescence of World War weapons and tactics, the United States has begun a modernization program of its armed forces. As a component of the Army, the National Guard is required to meet the changed conditions and accordingly alter and expand its training program. A higher standard of military proficiency is constantly demanded.

Now that war plans contemplate that the National Guard shall be prepared to take the field, at increased strength, on M-day, training becomes of greatest importance. Through the mediums of Service Schools; Army Extension Course studies, and U. S. Army Instructors, the standard of military education has been considerably raised, and training schedules and programs reflect the more serious and studied consideration of all commanders.

All phases of training of the National Guard are conducted under the supervision of officers of like branches of the Regular Army, these officers being especially selected by the War Department for their suitability for duty with the National Guard. During the armory training period these officers make frequent visits of instruction to the units of the Guard at their home stations, observe their training and make constructive criticisms.

Belligerent conditions in Europe and the Far East have been reflected in increased activity of our military and naval forces. On December 21, 1939, War Department Authority was received and directives issued, calling for the increase of National Guard Armory Drill, with pay, to twice each week for the period October 15, 1939 to March 1, 1940.

In addition to the regular fifteen days field training in 1939, seven days field training was conducted during the winter, in which the several regiments operated independently and efficiently.

Reflecting the interest displayed by the National Guard in military affairs, the field training camps for 1940 were attended by 99% of its personnel.

THIRD ARMY MANEUVERS

All divisional units of the Florida National Guard which include Infantry, Field Artillery, Engineers, Medical and Quartermaster branches totaling 154 officers, two warrant officers and 2,355 enlisted men, participated in the Third Army Maneuvers which were conducted at Camp Beauregard, La., August 4 to 24, 1940.

This concentration of Regular Army, National Guard and Organized Reserves was the largest ever held in the South in peace times and while of inestimable training value, deficiencies were found which can and will be corrected in future maneuvers.

Personnel of Field Artillery, Medical and Quartermaster units were transported into the maneuver area in organically assigned motor equipment, while the Infantry and Engineers were transported by rail. All movements operated with precision and orderliness.

The report of the umpires indicated a well-founded knowledge of interior administration and military tactics; a high state of troop morale and discipline; and probably outstanding ability of the Florida Infantry and Field Artillery in maintaining efficient wire and radio communications.

The Adjutant General with the State Staff and State Detachment were assembled at Camp Beauregard during these exercises, for instructions in the important subjects of Selective Service and of Volunteer Personnel Procurements. Minute plans for the operation of these activities were perfected.

SERVICE SCHOOLS

During the past biennium twenty-four officers and two enlisted men have graduated from Service Schools of the following branches: Field Artillery, Engineer, Infantry, Chemical Warfare, Medical Department and Stereoscopic Height Finder.

SALE OF CAMP FOSTER

As a measure of National Defense, the Florida Legislature, under the provisions of Chapter 19784 (No. 789) approved May 11, 1939, directed the State Armory Board to convey to the Duval County Air Base Authority, for use by the U. S. Navy, all state owned lands within the territorial limits of Camp Foster in Duval County, Florida.

Camp Foster formerly known as Camp Johnston and as Black Point, consisted of 300 acres lying on the West bank of the St. Johns river in Township 3, South of Range 26 E, in Duval County, purchased by the Jacksonville Board of Trade and presented to the State on August 17, 1907. In addition to this State owned tract, the United States Government owned 682 acres of adjoining lands upon which was located the rifle range, as well as both State and Federally owned buildings and camp facilities, and to which the State of Florida held a revocable license dated July 21, 1926.

Therefore, in arriving at an equitable sales price, the Armory Board was forced to consider the State's investment in facilities located on adjoining federally owned lands as well as the loss of further use of these lands by the National Guard as part of its training camp.

With the approval of the Secretary of War, the following agreement was entered into on September 11, 1939:

"WHEREAS the County of Duval and the City of Jacksonville, Florida, have jointly and mutually agreed to furnish to the United States of America without cost to the United States a site for a Naval Aviation Base; and

"WHEREAS, within the limits of the proposed site there is the federally owned Black Point Military Reservation, consisting of approximately six hundred and eighty-two (682) acres, which is now utilized by the State of Florida by permission of the Secretary of War as part of the Florida National Guard Camp J. Clifford R. Foster; and

"WHEREAS the Secretary of the Navy has requested that the above mentioned six hundred and eighty-two (682) acres of land be transferred to the jurisdiction of the Navy Department under existing law; and

"WHEREAS the War Department has opposed such a transfer unless a suitable camp and facilities for the Florida National Guard is established elsewhere without expense to the War Department over and above normal allotments to the Florida National Guard and said camp site is leased to the United States for a period of ninety-nine (99) years; and

"WHEREAS the Board of Commissioners of the Duval County Air Base Authority has been duly authorized by the State of Florida to issue and sell bonds in the total amount of one million one hundred thousand dollars ($1,100,000.00) of which $400,000.00 is to be transferred to the Florida State Armory Board for the purpose of establishing and equipping a suitable National Guard Camp elsewhere; and

"WHEREAS it is necessary that the War Department before it relinquishes jurisdiction over the hereinbefore mentioned six hundred eighty-two (682) acres of land be assured that a suitable camp and facilities will in fact be established elsewhere without cost to the War Department over and above normal allotments to the Florida National Guard and the new site leased to the United States without cost to the Federal Government:

"NOW, THEREFORE, it is mutually agreed by and between the parties hereto:

"1. The funds paid by the Board of Commissioners of the Duval Air Base Authority to the State Armory Board of the State of Florida in the amount of four hundred thousand dollars ($400,000.00) will be expended by said Board for the acquisition of land and construction of necessary facilities for the re-establishment of the present National Guard Camp in a suitable location elsewhere, provided that not to exceed $100,000.00 of the above sum shall be expended for the acquisition of not less than approximately 25,000 acres of land, and provided further that the new camp site and maneuver area will be leased to the United States without cost to the Federal Government for a period of ninety-nine (99) years, and provided further that no land will be acquired or facilities installed or constructed with any part of the aforesaid $400,000.00 without prior approval of the Secretary of War; and, it is further agreed that essential facilities adequate to accommodate one Regiment of Infantry will be completed by July 1, 1940. Provided further that nothing in this agreement will prevent the expenditure of reasonable sums for administrative purpose incident to the acquisition of land and the construction of facilities thereon.

"2. That upon the execution of this agreement, the Secretary of War will transfer to the jurisdiction of the Navy Department the existing Black Point Military Reservation consisting of approximately six hundred and eighty-two (682) acres of land.

"3. The performance of this agreement is contingent upon obtaining such Congressional authority thereof as may be necessary.

"THIS AGREEMENT entered into this 11 day of September, 1939, between Vivian Collins, the Adjutant General of Florida, Vice-Chairman, State Armory Board on behalf of State Armory Board, Florida, and Harry H. Woodring, Secretary of War, on behalf of the United States of America. Acreage of the Black Point Reservation was changed from 693 to 682 and the reversion stipulation in Article 2 was deleted prior to the execution of this agreement on behalf of the United States of America."

On November 18, 1939, a check was received from the Duval County Air Base Authority, in the amount of $400,000.00, which was deposited with the State Treasurer to the credit of the "Armory Board Replacement Fund."

PURCHASE OF CAMP BLANDING

As soon as it was ascertained that the State would be compelled to surrender Camp Foster as a National Guard training camp, the State Armory Board conducted careful surveys of all proposed camp sites throughout the State.

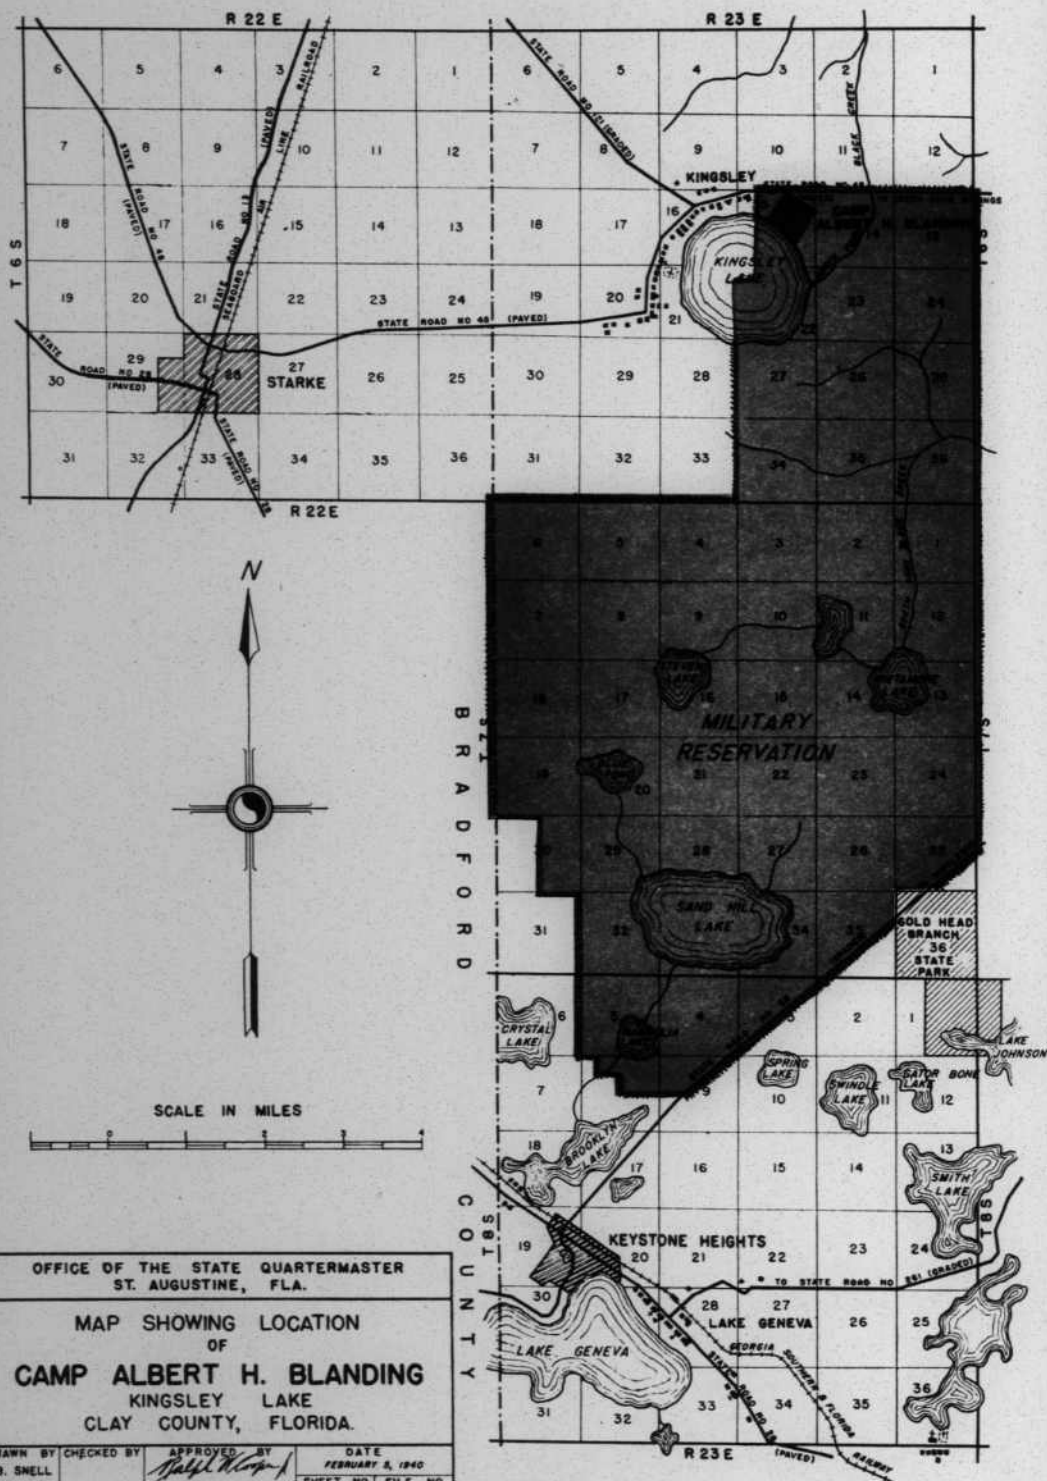

On September 10, 1939, the War Department sent a Board of regular Army experts into the State to assist the Armory Board in reaching a decision as to the location of the new camp site. It being recognized that to meet the requirement of modern weapons, an area of at least 25,000 acres of land would be necessary and that the location must, for economy of transportation of troops, be readily accessible to the more populous areas of the State, all concerned agreed that the hilly section of Clay County furnished the most central location and the best training terrain. Therefore, contracts were entered into, and in some cases Condemnation suits were instituted, with a view of acquiring 28,200 acres in Townships 6, 7 and 8, in western Clay County.

Five attractive lakes are located within the camp area and it was this lake front property which brought the purchase price up to an average of $7.00 per acre, making a total of $197,000.00, expended by the Armory Board in the purchase of land.

The $400,000.00 derived from the sale of Camp Foster was expended as follows:

Purchase of 28,200 acres land	$ 197,000.00
Water system	13,327.00
Sewerage system	25,129.97
Electric and telephone system	8,051.04
Architects and Engineers	9,796.65
Buildings	126,879.14
Roads, streets and clearing	16,620.48
Fence and Miscellaneous	3,195.72
Total	$ 400,000.00

The Work Projects Administration was very helpful in this undertaking, particularly in installing water and sewer lines; in the construction of fences, roads and streets; in the construction of four Mess Halls, and in general beautification of the Camp site. This helpful agency is now engaged in the construction of an Officers Recreation Building and Rifle Range.

NAVAL MILITIA

Legislative appropriations for the maintenance of the Florida Naval Militia having been reduced, it became necessary to surrender and turn back to the U. S. Navy, the two remaining Patrol Boats, i. e., the YP 46 and YP 48, which had been assigned to Organized Division No. II, at Jacksonville.

The two Divisions of Naval Militia constitute a force of twelve (12) officers and two hundred fifteen (215) enlisted men. This force received commendable reports from Naval Authorities for both Armory instruction and training cruise activities. Its officers are well qualified and its enlisted personnel consists of expert specialists.

On the date of this report a large portion of both officers and men have already been inducted into active Naval service and it is expected that the entire force will be in federal service within the next month.

VETERANS GRAVES REGISTRATION

In cooperation with Veterans organizations, this department is sponsor for a Work Projects Administration effort in which the graves of all deceased veterans of the Army, Navy and other military establishments of the United States, including graves of Confederate soldiers, will be recorded in this office.

Upon completion of this project, the files of this office will contain a comprehensive record of all deceased military veterans, together with a plat of each cemetery upon which will be shown the location of each veteran's grave. It is estimated that 50,000 deceased veterans are buried in Florida.

Records completed to date are:

Cemeteries surveyed and mapped	2,369
Individual records completed	21,768

CONCLUSION

Credit for that healthy growth and development of the Florida National Guard which is a matter of official record, is due to the willing and intelligent cooperation of the officers and enlisted men, who so patriotically assume military service as an obligation of citizenship.

Respectfully submitted,

VIVIAN COLLINS,
Brigadier General, A.G.D., F.N.G.,

GENERAL ORDERS,
No. 12.

1. Announcement is made of the retirement of Major General Albert H. Blanding, Florida National Guard, effective this date, with rank of Lieutenant General.

General Blanding served thirty-five years, six months and three days, in the Florida National Guard, eighteen years as a commissioned officer in the 2d Florida Infantry during eight of which he commanded the regiment. In command of the 2d Florida Infantry on the Mexican Border in 1916-17 he displayed outstanding ability in command and training. As a Brigadier General, Army of the United States, during the World War, and serving in active combat with both National Guard and Regular Army Divisions, he reflected credit on his State by his excellence of leadership and the sterling quality of his service, as evidenced by his having been awarded the Distinguished Service Medal by the Federal Government for exceptionally meritorious service, and by his having been cited in orders of General Headquarters, American Expeditionary Force, and of Headquarters of the 27th Division for distinguished service. As commanding general, 53rd Brigade, on September 27-29, 1918, in an attack on the Hindenburg Line near St. Quentin, France, he displayed qualities of command and leadership which were largely responsible for the success with which his Division carried its objectives despite very heavy losses. As a Major General commanding the 31st Division since October 15, 1924, and as Chief of the National Guard Bureau from January 31, 1936, to January 30, 1940, he has been of invaluable assistance in solving the military problems of the Government and State and by his advice, interest, and example has been a constant inspiration to the Guard.

The FLORIDA CROSS, which is the highest State military decoration, was awarded to General Blanding for recognition of his outstanding military ability and service to the State.
